Urban design: Design & Lifestyle Hotels

Refreshingly beautiful: this lifestyle is worth the journey
Design fans will love this former apartment building from the 1950s. The hotel features impressively modern architecture that fits perfectly with the homely atmosphere.

© Mark Niedermann
What type of nomad are you?
What I love most of all is to travel from place to place, discovering new things all over the world, and always with an appetite for culinary surprises. There’s no doubt: I am a real food nomad.

Urban design

Welcome to the Design & Lifestyle Hotels

Hotels as trendy total works of art: Aesthetics, architecture and avant-garde the key roles in Switzerland’s Design & Lifestyle Hotels. Some of them are even a little bit crazy.

The former 1950s apartment block has been transformed into an architectural milestone in Basel. General manager of the hotel Jonas Gass uses the following adjectives to describe the combination of colours, solid oak, cool concrete and wild joie de vivre: urban, brave, cheeky, young, humorous and delicious.

Speaking of delicious things, the in-house eatery is one of the most iconic international restaurants in town. After all, excellent cuisine has a lot to do with lifestyle. Incidentally, this also applies to the atmosphere at the “Nomad”: the down-to-earth familiarity among those who frequent the hotel is another hallmark of this trendy Basel establishment.

What’s the best time of day to enjoy the “Nomad”?
I love it in our bar at around 5:30 p.m., when the energy of the working day comes to an end, the bass vibrates and people from Basel and all over the world come together to chat over a drink after work.

JONAS GASS
General Manager, Nomad Hotel Basel

Trends never stand still. In five years’ time, will the “Nomad” still look like it does today?
I certainly hope not! We are constantly developing ourselves further, changing rooms around, creating fresh accents and tapping into our inspiration.

At what time of day do you like the “Nomad” best?
I love it in our bar at around 5:30 p.m., when the energy of the working day comes to an end, the bass vibrates and people from Basel and all over the world come together to chat over a drink after work.
Living in style

All the Swiss Design & Lifestyle Hotels feature the hallmarks of innovative architecture and contemporary interiors. The premises are stylish, but never at the expense of functionality. Attention to detail goes beyond just design: high-quality food and often a unique location make each hotel in this category an exclusive experience.

At the stylish Hard Rock Hotel Davos, rock ‘n’ roll rhythms sound from the professional audio equipment through to the personal Sound of Your Stay® playlist.
Take a spin around Zurich for free on a Schindelhauer bike, enjoy the peace and quiet on the trendy roof terrace or flex your muscles with an arm wrestling machine in the lounge: that’s the lifestyle you’ll find at the 25hours Hotel Langstrasse.

Architecture meets sound. The Tralala in Montreux is a visual homage to the local jazz festival. The red, black and white colours set the tone. The artistic renovation bears all the hallmarks of NOR Architectes from Lausanne and owner Estelle Mayer.
